The 96th Season

Rutgers Football

Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, The State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927, University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

Dr. Mason W. Gross, the 16th president of the University, was inaugurated in May, 1959.

Rutgers currently is completing a $50,000,000 construction program largely financed through passage in 1959 of a state bond issue. The Men's Colleges in New Brunswick, by 1965, will have approximately doubled the 1957 enrollment (3,000 to 6,000).

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John F. Bateman, Head Coach

BEGINNING his fifth season at Rutgers, John Bateman has led the Scarlet to a .676 winning percentage, with 25 wins in 37 games. Bateman's record includes the only undefeated season in the 95 years of Rutgers football—a 9-0 mark in 1961. Under Bateman, Rutgers has split four games in its traditional series with Princeton; has won four Middle Three Titles; and won two Middle Atlantic titles before withdrawing from the league after the '61 season.

Bateman, who was an assistant at Columbia under Lou Little for 11 years and at Penn under Steve Sebo from 1957 through 1959, is a native New Jerseyman. He attended Central High and St. Benedict's prep in Newark before entering Columbia in 1934. He played guard under Little at Columbia, captaining the 1937 Lion eleven. He returned to Columbia as an assistant in 1946 after three years in the Navy and three years as coach at Middletown, N. Y., High School.

The holder of a master's degree in political science and a doctorate in education from Columbia, Dr. Bateman is Rutgers' 15th football coach since 1900. He and his wife have three sons. They live in Highland Park.

Matthew J. Bolger, Jr., Assistant Coach

ENTERING HIS ninth year at Rutgers, Matt Bolger served here four years under John Stiegman and continued on the staff under John Bateman. Charged specifically with the ends, he also assists with offensive line play. Born and raised in Newark, he is a 1948 graduate of Cornell and coached five years at Brown before coming to Rutgers. A veteran of the Marine Air Corps, he has a 50-25-1 four year record as coach of the Scarlet baseball team. Matt, his wife and three children live in Edison Township.

DeWayne "Dewey" King, Assistant Coach

ARENOVED EXPERT on pass defense, Dewey King is in his fifth season at Rutgers. A graduate of the University of North Dakota, his main staff responsibility is with the defensive backfield. A native of Cando, N. D., King was an assistant at Michigan State before serving from 1954 through 1959 as a Penn assistant under Steve Sebo. King, who lives in New Brunswick with his wife and two sons came to Rutgers with Bateman, who was a fellow assistant at Penn.

A book about pass defense by King, "Jericho," was published last year.

Frank Burns, Assistant Coach

RUTGERS' ALL-TIME great quarterback, Frank Burns returned to Rutgers in 1961 after four years at Chatham, N. J., High School. Burns twice previously served Rutgers, first as freshman coach and later as varsity backfield coach. He also was head coach at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. A native of Roselle Park, Burns was an all-east quarterback and an outstanding catcher on the baseball team as an undergraduate. Burns, whose chief assignment is coaching the offense backfield, lives in Berkeley Heights with his wife and three children.

Robert Naso, Assistant Coach

A 1959 RUTGERS graduate, Bob Naso excelled in football and lacrosse as a player and in 1961-62 became varsity lacrosse coach and freshman football coach for his alma mater. He was assistant lacrosse coach for two years and in 1959 coached the 150-pound football team. When Warren Schminkel accepted the head coaching assignment at Boston U., Naso was promoted to the varsity staff as defensive line coach. Naso's three year lacrosse record is 19-14. Bob and his wife, Carole, live in New Brunswick. They have two daughters.

William J. Speranza, Freshman Coach

THE MOST recent addition to the Rutgers football staff, Bill Speranza quarterbacked (with Sam Mudie) the undefeated Rutgers eleven of 1961. In his three varsity football seasons, the new freshman coach participated on teams which won 23 of 27 games. Speranza, who also won three letters as a catcher-outfielder in baseball, has been an assistant football coach at Liberty High, Bethlehem, Pa., the last two years.

Twitchell won six varsity letters as an undergraduate, captaining the 1934 football team as center and winning the Donald Leslie Coursen trophy, highest individual athletic award given at the University.

A native of Dedham, Mass., he began his coaching career at North Plainfield, N. J., High School. He went to Sewanhaka High School in 1937, served later as assistant football coach at Hofstra College, then returned to Sewanhaka as head coach of football and lacrosse until 1947.

He coached sub-varsity football and freshman lacrosse at Rutgers until he became varsity line coach in 1949 and succeeded his own former coach, Fred Fitch, as varsity lacrosse mentor in 1950. The Outlook — 1964

When 1963 started poorly for the Rutgers Football Team and it was apparent the veterans weren't going to get the job done, Coach John Bateman went to a youth movement.

As a result, the picture for 1964 is a lot brighter. Although the new offense-defense setup cannot be determined until pre-season practice get underway (Rutgers has no spring practice), the first two units for 1964 more than likely will be staffed by veterans of last year's school of hard knocks.

There isn't a football coach in the country who wouldn't like more depth and that includes Bateman. But with the exception of the guard positions, there are letter winners available, two deep, at almost every other spot.

Bateman feels that Rutgers will return to winning ways. How good a season may depend on the start. As usual, the Scarlet opens against Princeton and the Cosmo Iacavazzi-led Tigers will be tough for everyone.

For the first time since 1961, Rutgers goes into a season with an established quarterback. Dave Stout is not an All-America candidate, but had streaks of brilliance last fall and gained confidence with each game. His ability to move the team is no longer in question and returning to camp with the knowledge that the job is his will undoubtedly give him and his mates a lift.

Stout has some exceptional backs to call upon in Chet Ward, who is possibly the best Rutgers halfback since Billy Austin; Bob Brendel, who reminds local fans of Steve Simms, all-east in 1961; and sophomore flash Ralf Stegmann, who looms as a starter.

Don Viggiano, last year's top ground gainer, will have to battle the powerful Brendel for fullback honors. Other backs who will help, offensively or defensively, are Roger Kaling, George Lamb, John Canavan, Bill Green, Jack Callaghan and Charley Mudie, the latter another sophomore and the third of his family to play in the Rutgers backfield.

Up front, there are, unfortunately, no established stars to match the likes of Ward and Brendel, but lettermen abound (four at end, three at tackle, two at guard and two at center).

Capt. Bob Norton is an inspirational-type leader who may go to defense with Pete Savidge handling the centering chores. Bruce Lawrence has the makings of a top guard and John Chadwick, Bill Sparks and Rich VonBischoffshausen are solid, if not spectacular, tackles. Bob Stohrer could become a standout pass receiver at end.

Substantial help is on the way from newcomers. Jerry Sertick, 6-3, 235, could well be the outstanding tackle; Bob Schroeder is an eagerly awaited line-backer; Marty Frankiewicz is a promising end and the Kenny twins (quarterback Bob and tackle Ron) are among the new players who may be considered for regular assignments.

Rutgers once again will scrimmage Cornell and it won't be until then that a true line on the squad will be forthcoming. But Bateman will be a disappointed coach if the 1964 eleven doesn't finish in the black.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 22; Lettermen Lost: 12

Although Princeton lost two tailbacks and two outstanding tackles, the Tigers have All-American fullback Cosmo Iacavazzi back. To support Iacavazzi in the backfield, the Tigers have tailback Don McKay and quarterback Roy Pizzarello returning.

Coach Dick Colman, despite graduation losses, figures he has a better line than last year, especially at end. Tackle and guard are above average and center will not be the problem it has been in recent years. Princeton has a good first unit, but must develop depth at key positions to have a successful year.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Princeton 24, Rutgers 0

Rutgers' offense wasn't ready to move and the Scarlet's defense couldn't contain the thrusts of Cosmo Iacavazzi and Hugh MacMillan. That, in short, produced Princeton's shutout win.

Iacavazzi, who went on to national scoring honors, ran 22 yards for the first score to cap a 47-yard first period march. MacMillan went over from the four midway in the second period and Pete Gogolak booted a 20-yard field goal to make it 17-0 at the half. A three-yard drive off tackle by Don McKay in the third quarter concluded the scoring. Rutgers' deepest penetration was the Princeton 29.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 16

Rick Forzano, a former Navy assistant, will begin a program to revitalize Connecticut's football fortunes this fall. On the basis of spring practice, he feels the Huskies will lack team speed and depth. Also, there is a dearth of promising pass catchers, which means Connecticut may travel mostly on the ground.

It's not a hopeless cause, however, with 17 lettermen returning, and some promising newcomers, headed by halfback John Stoddard and tackle Jim Morgan. Senior guard Rich Kupec, the captain, is an outstanding lineman.

LAST GAME (1962): Connecticut 15, Rutgers 9

Rutgers had a 9-0 lead after 11 minutes of play, but couldn't get moving again as Connecticut's defense took charge thereafter. Ritchie Poad scored on the end of a 63-yard drive and a safety a few minutes later provided Rutgers with its early advantage.

The UConns drove 84 yards to their first score, with Dave Korponai going over from the five in the second quarter. Connecticut pounded 66 yards for its winning touchdown at 7:32 of the last period, with Tony Magaletta getting the points from the one.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Lost: 11

"We will be better. These boys have come to play football." Thus Coach Mike Cooley assessed his 1964 Lehigh eleven after spring practice. Cooley feels there is a good chance to improve on the 4-14 mark of the last two seasons, thanks to increased experience and more size.

Les Kish and Bob Draucker, who shared the quarterbacking chores, return after fine sophomore years. They should benefit by experience and help move an attack which will feature Mike Noel, Hal Yeich and Joe Weis. Sophomore Ed Stewart is expected to be a starting tackle.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 30, Lehigh 6

Winless at the time (0-3), Rutgers got its offense going at last, pounding out 445 yards, including 369 overland. Fullback Don Viggiano had 66 and quarterback Dave Stout had 64. Defensively, the Scarlet held Lehigh to 3 yards running, but the Engineers got 164 in the air.

After a scoreless first period, Stout passed eight yards to Bob Brendel for a TD climaxing a 71-yard second-period drive. Stout ran 10 yards a few minutes later and ran for two points to make it 15-0. Lehigh's Hal Yeich ran three yards just before the half to make it 15-6. A 76-yard drive, capped by Viggiano's four-yard run, settled the issue as the third period began. In the fourth period, Jack Callaghan scored from six yards out.

PENN PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Lost: 16

More than half of John Stiegman's players will be sophomores, a factor which will contribute to early-season mistakes. The loss of key personnel will force Stiegman to depend on sophomores to fill gaps. Penn, lacking a consistent scoring punch, will play possession football, exploiting its kicking strength.

Bruce Molloy is defending Ivy League punting champion and was fifth in rushing in the Conference. Captain Jim Riepe and Tom Elgar are Penn's two outstanding defensive players. If newcomers can develop quickly and fill vacant gaps, Penn may enjoy a fair season.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Penn 7, Rutgers 6

Four fumbles and 100 yards in penalties proved disastrous for Rutgers, which outgained Penn, 223-149, and dominated play almost throughout. The Scarlet's running game was particularly effective, accounting for 218 yards. But every time a drive appeared ready to pay off, a fumble or penalty would occur.

For a time, Chester Ward's 64-yard sprint to a touchdown at 12:52 of the second period (a run for two points failed) held up. But midway in the final period, Don Challis completed two Penn passes, one to John Packard for 40 yards and a scoring throw on fourth down from the 17 to Bill Paul. Siegfried Molnar's place kick provided the winning point.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 12; Lettermen Lost: 8

Columbia is blessed with its most experienced team in recent years. Archie Roberts, All-Ivy League quarterback, is returning to lead the Columbia attack. In addition to Roberts, Buff Donelli has back captain and fullback Ed Malmstrom and halfbacks Gene Thompson and Bob Patton to form a complete backfield.

The Lions are strong at end with Bob Donahue and Jerry Hug returning. The interior line play should improve as Jack Strauch is back again to anchor the line at center. For the first time in years, Donelli will not have to force sophomores into the starting lineup. Roberts & Co. should be fighting for the Ivy crown.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Columbia 35, Rutgers 28

Almost single handedly, Archie Roberts defeated Rutgers. He proved himself one of the most versatile players in the country in this contest, passing, running, kicking, intercepting passes and making key tackles. He led Columbia to a 28-0 half-time lead by: passing 36 yards to Bob Donahue and setting up 23-yard TD run by Gene Thompson in the first quarter; and sneaking over from the one and passing 13 yards to Ed Malmstrom in the second.

Rutgers came to life in the third quarter with three scores. First Bill Green swept in from the 10; then Don Viggiano sprinted in from 29 yards out; and finally Bob Brendel belted across from the 10. A pass from Dave Stout to Paul Strellick made it 20-28. Brendel scored again at 6:00 of the 4th period and Stout hit Bob Stohrer to complete the comeback, 28-28. But Roberts went to running and danced down the sideline for 38 yards to make it 35-28. He later knocked down a Stout pass in the end zone to prevent a possible tie.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY'S PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 10

Warren Schmakiel, who left his line coaching position at Rutgers to take over the B.U. head coaching job this past winter, finds himself in a not too promising situation. Schmakiel has 17 lettermen returning, but lost eight of his starting eleven.

If B.U. has a strong point, it would have to be at end and tackle. Steve Albrect and Jim Fischer are proven receivers, while tackles John Henry and Phil Smith bring experience to the interior line. The backfield was hurt by graduation, but Schmakiel has quarterbacks Phil Caito and Bill Allen returning.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 21, Boston U. 6

An effective ground attack, led by Don Viggiano's 108 yards, gained Rutgers this victory over a bigger B.U. team. Bob Brendel, playing his first game at fullback, crashed over from the six and Chet Ward ran off tackle from the three for second period scores. With Jack Hohnstine's kicks, the halftime score was 14-0.

The third quarter was scoreless, but Dave Stout carried over from the two at the end of a 63-yard advance early in the final period, thereby nullifying 58-yard touchdown play from Bill Allen to George Byrd.

LAFAYETTE'S PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 12

After going through a rebuilding year last season coach Ken Bunn feels that his 1964 team will be improved, but not yet ready to win any "pennants." Bunn has nine of his starting eleven returning and should put together a solid, experienced first unit. But, beyond the first eleven, Lafayette lacks experience.

On the bright side, Bunn has George Hossenlopp, a talented quarterback. Hossenlopp has had trouble getting receivers to hold on to his passes, but junior end Dave Brown could solve the problem. Lafayette has improved and if Brown is as good as the coaches say he is, the Leopards could prove to be dangerous.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 49, Lafayette 0

Coach John Bateman employed every player on his roster during the Scarlet's easy victory over the undermanned Leopards. Rutgers totaled 406 yards to Lafayette's 86, 83 of the latter coming in the air.

Seven players ran for Rutgers touchdowns: Chet Ward (3 yards); Paul Strelick (1); Dave Stout (1); Jim D'Antonio (3); Don Viggiano (12); Jack Callaghan (8); and Bob Mudie (5). The score was only 15-0 at the half as Lafayette thwarted several Scarlet bids, but three third quarter TDs put a "no contest" label on the game. Viggiano and Ward each had 59 yards to pace the attack.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Lost: 19

Although Delaware lost many players from its best team in history, there is ample talent returning plus exceptional sophomore strength available to help make another powerful squad in 1964. According to Dave Nelson, the Delaware line should be second to none in small college football—it will be "big, tough and mobile."

Offensively, quarterback Tom VanGrofski, a triple-threatener, and fullback Mike McCrann are proven operatives. End-cornerman Ron Bianco is a potential "All" candidate. Herb Slattery, a 235 pound sophomore guard is rated Delaware's "finest line prospect." Nelson says: "the team which ends Delaware's 12-game winning streak will have to be a strong one."

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Delaware 14, Rutgers 3

Rutgers took an early lead, 3-0, on Jack Hohnstine's 32-yard field goal, but couldn't hold against the steady pressure exerted by Delaware's versatile ground-air attack. With Mike Brown, a Little All-American choice, leading the way, Delaware marched 82 yards in six plays to take the lead, 7-3, in the first quarter. Brown scored from the 28.

Delaware held off Rutgers' bids on the three and one-yard lines in the second quarter and Mike McCrann scored from the one for the Blue Hens in the third quarter. Rutgers was unable to get close again and the Hens completed an unbeaten season with an 8-0 record.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 11

Colgate may be smaller up front this fall, but Coach Hal Lahar expects team speed to be improved. The Red Raiders, who started quickly, but faded last fall, will have the top four scorers, the top six rushers, the top two passers and the two best receivers back from 1963.

As a result, the offense should click with more regularity. Key performers figure to be Gerry Barudin, the quarterback; halfback Tom Carpenter and fullback Don Court. Rebuilding will be necessary in the interior line, especially at center and guard.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Colgate 28, Rutgers 8

Colgate broke loose for 21 points in the second quarter and went on to defeat Rutgers for the first time in seven years. Fullback Don Court was the prime mover, getting 99 of the Red Raiders' 227 yards running. Rutgers managed only 48 yards on the ground.

Court scored the first two touchdowns, from the four and one yard lines. Tom Carpenter also scored from the one. Rutgers contained the Red Raiders in the third period and a four-yard run by Ritchie Poad plus a Dave Stout-Paul Strellick pass made it 21-8. But Colgate came back to drive 67 yards to dispell notions of a comeback.

FOOTBALL'S FIRST GAME

The first official inter-collegiate football game was played on Nov. 6, 1869, between Rutgers and Princeton. There were 25 men on a side and goals, rather than touchdowns were scored. Rutgers won the inaugural, 6-4, with the game played on the site now occupied by the Rutgers Gymnasium.

Although the game was much like rugby, it was the fore-runner of present day football. Soon, Columbia, Yale and other schools began to play and the game pioneered in New Brunswick has become one of the world's most exciting spectacles.

To recognize New Brunswick as football's birthplace, sportswriters, football officials and fans in 1949 selected the city for the location of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. A major drive is expected to be launched this year for funds to construct the building, which will be located several hundred yards north of Rutgers Stadium.

It is interesting to note that William J. Leggett, captain of Rutgers first team, later became a distinguished clergyman of the Dutch Reformed Church. His counterpart, William Gunmere of Princeton, later became chief justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

Football people are proud that so many of the game's standout players become standout citizens. It is their firm belief that football is one of the prime contributors in molding the character and personalities of our future leaders.
